

The Protestant Standard :

A JOURNAL OF POLITICAL AND RELIGIOUS FREEDOM.

No. 46 Vol. XIV.

SYDNEY: SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 1883.

PRICE FOURPENCE.

The Green Flag at the Cricket Match.

Can anyone explain why, when the Messrs. Redmond were at the Cricket Match, the Irish flag and two American flags were flying on the Pavilion, and nowhere the English flag? On no other occasion that we remember was that green flag with the harp and the inscription Cead Millia Failthe on it flying on the Pavilion. Who were the hundred thousand welcomes for? If they were for the cricketers, and not for the sedition mongers, why was the flag not hoisted before? It has an ugly look.